

The shared google drive 202031 PHYS 201 has pdfs of all exams given in my sections in previous semesters, fall 2014 through fall 2022. The web address for this drive is <https://drive.google.com/drive/u/1/folders/OAE-AQJwUN2QNUK9PVA> All of you are members and have viewing access. When it asks for your email you MUST use your TAMU email address, the one for which you received this email. You will then be taken to CAS login, like you do to access Howdy and other TAMU web sites. For this shared drive you are already members via your TAMU email. You do NOT need to request permission to access. Permission will not be given for you to access the drive using a gmail or other non-TAMU address.

For each semester there are four midterm exams and the final exam. There are two copies of each exam: one with answers (but not the solutions) and one without answers. You can use the exam without answers to take the exam for practice and then use the copy with answers to check your answers. The best use of these previous exams is to look at them only AFTER you have done all the assigned homework for the chapters covered on the exam. If there are problems you can't do correctly, go back and study that material.

Lewis Ford